PROFILE

Currently a third-year Psychology & Communicative English undergraduate at Mount Carmel College, Bangalore, I bring analytical thinking, storytelling, and strong communication skills to understanding human behavior.

I have gained hands-on experience through editorial work with The Hindu, a psychology internship with Foxconn's Bharat FIH, and leadership roles in campus media and hospitality societies. My media experience spans editing newsletters, coordinating large campus events, and leading creative teams with a focus on strategy, detail, and impact.

Outside academics, I'm passionate about finding the perfect cup of coffee, photography, and designing visually striking posters. I'm now seeking opportunities to apply my critical thinking, writing, and communication skills to real-world analysis and growth.
